This year's 2004 entry by Bentley Homes is a perfect example of why owner Menny Rosenbaum is an award-winning Showcase builder. He personally supervises the construction of every home to ensure that his high standards of quality are adhered to, and his hands-on approach is evident in this breathtaking soft contemporary home designed by Robert Samen.

The strong, clean lines of the standing seamed metal roof are softened by the stucco exterior. Unusual in Bellaire is the wide elevation that the home presents. The visual focus of the three-story entry foyer with its barrel-vaulted ceiling is majestic. To the left of the entry, the dining room is outfitted for entertaining in true elegance, including a built-in buffet, its own butler's pantry with wine racks, and an oval ceiling treatment that contrasts interestingly with the diagonally laid 24" travertine flooring. The study, beyond the grand sweeping staircase, is clad in stained white maple from floor to ceiling. The appeal of this room is further enhanced by a fireplace centered in a wall of built-ins as well as a wet bar.

Windows looking out to a covered porch from the large family room lend a stunning view of the pool, with its four soothing waterfalls. The stained maple cabinets and shelving surrounding the TV are repeated in the adjoining island kitchen.

Upstairs, the master suite is dressed with hickory wood flooring and double-coved ceiling and has a breakfast bar complete with sink and refrigerator. The bath's luxury touches include handsome black granite in the shower, with full body sprayer, while the massive closet is finished with an abundance of stain-grade wood built-ins and contemporary chrome hanging rods.

The secondary bedrooms, all with walk-in closets, feature beautiful sea murals that will captivate the kids in an underwater odyssey.

- 4 bedrooms, 4 baths + 2 half-baths
- Full cabaña bath off porch
- 3-car garage with 11' ceilings and ample storage room
- Mud room with built-in cabinets and bench seats
